NATIONAL SECURITY SOLUTIONS

Flashpoint For Defense

In the face of national security threats, defense organizations must stay prepared and make prompt, informed decisions to protect assets and potentially save lives.

Flashpoint National Security Solutions (FNSS) supports defense intelligence, integrated cyberspace operations, and information operations, ensuring decision dominance and flexible response options for our clients in and through the integrated deterrence domain.
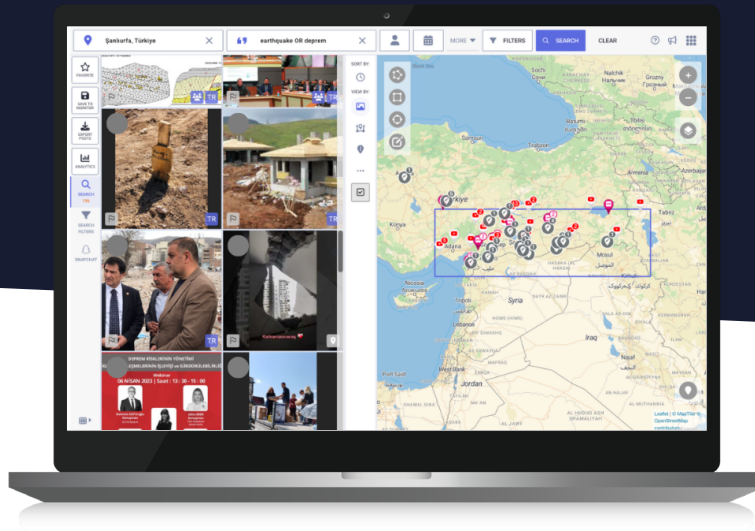

Defense solutions include:

- Extensive data collections and technical intelligence
- Real-time, geospatial social media data, and intuitive analytical functionality
- Support from best-in-class intelligence experts
- Tailored training to ensure your team realizes continual value from our solutions

Key initiatives we support:

NEAR-PEER NATION-STATE RESEARCH
Use open and closed sources to assess potential threats from nation-state adversaries.

COUNTERTERRORISM
Access extensive social networks and illicit discussion channels to identify and monitor planning, recruitment tactics, and campaigns.

CYBER NETWORK DEFENSE
Prevent breaches and protect assets by gaining a holistic understanding of the tools, tactics, and procedures used to target your organization. Analyze malware and actionable indicators of compromise for network defense.

GEOPOLITICAL RISK RESEARCH

Get information from the ground via global regional data sources—including social networks and defense forums across the Asia Pacific, Europe, the Middle East, and Africa, to better understand geopolitical moves and motives.

CRISIS MONITORING

Improve situational awareness with real-time social data from anywhere in the world. Identify mentions of relevant keywords, groups, and topics, and analyze their potential impact.

FORCE PROTECTION

Monitor names, usernames, and email addresses for data leakage, doxing, and violent intent. Monitor locations and situations on the ground to protect personnel anywhere in the world.

This comprehensive solution set delivers access to everything Flashpoint has to offer to support Defense teams—from award-winning software, services, and customer success.
